ASCE HAWAII SECTION AUGUST DINNER MEETING NOTICE

Program: New Tacoma Narrows Bridge, Tacoma, Washington

Speaker: Gerard Buechel P.E.
President of Shannon & Wilson, Inc.

The 1940 Tacoma Narrows Bridge, also known as the Galloping Gertie, collapsed into the Puget Sound just four months after opening. The bridge was redesigned and reconstructed 10 years later. In 2002, a new bridge was built parallel to the reconstructed bridge. Mr. Buechel and his team at Shannon & Wilson were responsible for the geotechnical and earthquake engineering studies for preliminary and final design of the new bridge and approach structures. This presentation summarizes the geotechnical challenges of the project from difficult subsurface support towers and anchorages.
